

Audubon PENNSYLVANIA

Backyard Stewardship Workshop

Comes to Eastern Montgomery County!

Any homeowner, gardener, teacher or land owner who is interested in improving landscapes and inviting birds can benefit from this workshop about restoring ecology to backyards and other properties. Attendees will learn:

- How to assess properties using Google Earth and other tools
- Use the 15-step design process to implement change
- Learn about native plants and how to create curb appeal
- How sustainable landscaping can help you and others save money!
- Identify 10-15 birds and what they need in a backyard to thrive
- If you live in the Wissahickon, Pennypack, or Tookany/Tacony-Frankford Watershed...this workshop is for you!!

BIRD TOWN
PENNSYLVANIA

Class 1: Classroom setting, includes companion textbook on CD, notebook, and light morning fare.
Class 2: Includes 1-2 backyard site visits with full assessment demonstration and practice, date and location to be determined:

Cost: $55

Saturday, May 3, 2014

9:30 am—2:30 pm

Jarrett Nature Center

At Simmons Elementary School

411 Babylon Road, Horsham

To register, contact Steve Saffier at ssaffier@audubon.org

610.666.5593 x112 (email preferred)

Presented by Audubon Pennsylvania in partnership with Hatboro/Horsham School District, the Jarrett Nature Center and Conservation Strategies LLC